Course Description

The overall goals of this course are: (1) to prepare STEP credential candidates to be effective beginning teachers of students who are officially classified as “English Learners,” and (2) to help STEP credential candidates develop a basic and critically informed understanding of the legal and policy framework for the education of these students.

In practical terms, the course will help STEP candidates meet the requirements for California’s “English Learner Authorization” (ELA) on their preliminary credential. The ELA authorizes STEP graduates to teach students who are classified as “English learners” in mainstream classrooms through Integrated English Language Development and in specialized settings such as Designated English Language Development by:

1. Introducing candidates to the historical, political, and legal foundations of educational programs for “English learners,” and encouraging candidates to consider how issues of power, inequality, and social justice overlap with the education of these students.
2. Providing an overview of theories of second language learning and research on the effectiveness of various means of promoting academic achievement in linguistically diverse contexts.
3. Introducing a framework to inform methods of teaching English language and literacy, and to create learning environments that promote content area learning and literacy.

NOTE: Different teaching credentials may involve somewhat different responsibilities with respect to English learners; different sections will, therefore, have somewhat different emphases. However, all candidates must be familiar with how English learners are identified and classified; the different programs into which they can be placed, and the various instructional models that exist; research that supports these programs and models; and the federal and state policy framework that shapes English learners’ educational opportunities and experiences.

Grades

Grades will be based on the following:

Students with Documented Disabilities

Stanford is committed to providing equal educational opportunities for disabled students. Disabled students are a valued and essential part of the Stanford community. We welcome you to our class.

If you experience a disability, please register with the Office of Accessible Education (OAE). Professional staff will evaluate your needs, support appropriate and reasonable accommodations, and prepare an Academic Accommodation Letter for faculty. To get started, or to re-initiate services, please visit oae.stanford.edu. If you already have an Academic Accommodation Letter, we invite you to share your letter with us. Academic Accommodation Letters should be shared at the earliest possible opportunity so we may partner with you and OAE to identify any barriers to access and inclusion that might be encountered in your experience of this course.

Stanford University Honor Code

Please note that we adhere to the standards of Stanford's Honor Code, the University's statement on academic integrity written by students in 1921. The Honor Code articulates University expectations of students and faculty in establishing and maintaining the highest standards in academic work. The Honor Code stipulates that students will not give or receive unpermitted aid for any coursework and will actively uphold the spirit and letter of the Honor Code. For more information please see: <http://www.stanford.edu/dept/vpsa/judicialaffairs/guiding/honorcode.htm>
